

Read command line arguments

Check if they're more than 1, if yes then go to block 3

Set current working directory as the directory to process

For each filename from directory, extract file extension

Convert this extension to lowercase and then rename